Commercial General Liability Coverage

We pay sums the insured becomes legally obligated to pay as damages because of bodily injury or property damage caused by an occurrence during the policy period. An occurrence means an accident, including continuous or repeated exposure to substantially the same harmful conditions.

The General liability each occurrence limit is the most we pay for damages arising from one occurrence. The General liability aggregate is the most we pay during the policy period for covered damages other than products-completed operations.

Products-completed operations covers bodily injury or property damage caused by your products away from your premises or by your completed work. Its aggregate is separate from the General liability aggregate.

Damage to premises rented to you covers property damage to premises you rent. Its limit is a sublimit within the General liability each occurrence limit, not additional insurance.

Endorsements listed above modify this coverage. All listed endorsements take effect at the start of the policy period. All other terms remain unchanged.
